DISTRIBUTED MANAGEMENT TASK FORCE MEMBERS' SOFTWARE SUBMISSION AGREEMENT

Recitals

Unless expressly designated otherwise in writing in advance of the Software Submission and accepted by written authorization of the Board of Directors of the Distributed Management Task Force (DMTF), the following terms apply to all Software Submissions made by Members in good standing of the DMTF at the time the Software Submission is made to the DMTF. By providing a Software Submission to the DMTF, the DMTF Member agrees to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

Agreement

1.1 Definitions. Unless defined in this document, terms in this document that are capitalized have the meaning set forth in the DMTF Bylaws, DMTF Patent Policy, DMTF Process for Technology Submissions, Review and Acceptance (DSP 4011) , or DMTF Process for Working Bodies (DSP 4014) , or Member Rules of Conduct (in that order of precedence).

   A. "Sample Implementation" means software that implements a DMTF Specification, and which may include functional technologies developed elsewhere and merely incorporated by reference in the body of the DMTF standard or otherwise not expressly set forth in the DMTF Specification. Unless otherwise specified in a written request for Submissions, Sample Implementations are intended for publication if approved by the Working Group or Board of Directors as provided in DMTF Policies.

   B. "Validation Software" means software used to test the functional conformance of an implementation of a DMTF Specification. Unless otherwise specified in a written request for Submissions, Validation Software is intended for publication if approved by the DMTF Working Group or Board of Directors as provided in DMTF Policies.

   C. "Software Submission" means software submitted by a DMTF member to a DMTF Working Group, Forum or Technical Committee in relation to an approved DMTF Sample Implementation or Validation Software project, whether in source code, binary code, or other format. The Submitter shall specify the software for which the Submission is intended, and whether made available for DMTF internal use or for use outside the DMTF by non-DMTF members. .

1.2 Software Submission by Members of the DMTF. Software Submissions by Members, to the extent they implement a Draft or Final DMTF Specification, are subject to the DMTF Patent Policy. For the avoidance of doubt, this means that the disclosure obligations (and any other obligations) a Member has regarding Software Submissions to DMTF apply solely to the extent the Software Submission implements a DMTF standard and do not extend to enabling technologies that are not themselves expressly set forth in the DMTF Standard or technologies developed elsewhere and merely incorporated by reference in the body of the DMTF standard.

2. Software Source Code Publication. When specified in advance that DMTF Member Submissions may be published outside of DMTF in source code format, DMTF Members making Software Submissions agree that the Software Source Code may be published under the following terms:

A. Copyrights. With respect to rights under copyright:

i. DMTF receives Software Submissions under the Submitter's copyright license as set forth in the Copyright provision of the DMTF's Members' Rules of Conduct, and agrees that any publication by DMTF of software will be under the terms set forth below.

ii. DMTF will publish designated Software Source Code under the copyright terms of the "BSD 3-Clause License" as published by the Open Source Initiative. The text used by DMTF will clarify (in italics below) that the license applies to rights under copyright only, as set forth below.

B. Patents. With respect to rights under patents, DMTF will publish designated Software Source Code with reference to patent commitments (if any) made by the DMTF Member in connection with the Software Submission pursuant to the DMTF Patent Policy.

C. Text of Software License for Sample Implementations. Sample Implementations, if approved for publication, will bear the following licensing statement in its entirety:

The Distributed Management Task Force (DMTF) grants rights under copyright in this software on the terms of the BSD 3-Clause License as set forth below; no other rights are granted by DMTF. This software might be subject to other rights (such as patent rights) of other parties.
